VICE PRESIDENT

Wow, the year is just flying by!!! Our long summer days are at an end and the air has a chill in it...

Many of us are gearing up for the market season. I will miss our October meeting (along with Mert) for a market at my grandson's school. However, Helen has a wonderful quick project for everyone involving hot glue and some thinking outside the box!

2027 Submissions: VERY IMPORTANT!!! If you are interested in submitting to teach a class in 2027 a few things to keep in mind:

---You must bring the actual project to the November meeting and/or Christmas party for members to view and sign an interest sheet for it; if you are not able to bring the project in person, you may submit a photo to me no later than Nov 26th so that we can get the photos in the December newsletter.

---If you are submitting photos, they MUST be a photo of your actual project. This is for a couple reasons...first, while you may follow the designer's instructions, our members want to see how YOU paint the piece, not how the designer has. Secondly, most designers do not permit the use of their packet/website photos for marketing purposes.

---If you are submitting a project not of your own design, please make sure you have the designer's permission to teach, and be able to provide that upon request.

---With your submission, please provide any additional costs, i.e. fees for the designer's patterns, fees for a specific wood surface, etc. Members need that information to make informed decisions on what classes they are interested in.

---Don't be afraid to submit!!!! We love having a variety of teachers and styles represented in our "class line-up". Classes do not have to be a full day; we are also interested in short "Make It/Take It" classes and demos.
